

CAScINATION Newsletter June 2010

Welcome to the CAScination Newsletter. We present you news and updates on the CAS-One liver navigation system and on scientific presentations related to computer-assisted liver surgery.

Navigated Acculis Microwave Ablation

Accurate needle placement and optimal safety margins through computer-assisted needle insertion and ablation volume prediction. The CAS-One supports now the Acculis MTA and pMTA microwave ablation probes.

More: Navigated Microwave Ablation

Surgical Navigation Handpiece by Söring

CAScination and Söring present an Ultrasonic HF handpiece with an integrated adaptor for navigated liver surgery. Get ready for the future of liver surgery with a Söring navigation handpiece.

More: Söring Navigated Ultrasound Handpieces

Scientific Presentation at CARS 2010

The first clinical results of 10 patients with primary or secondary liver cancer which were treated with CAS-One will be presented at the International Congress of Computer-Assisted Radiology and Surgery, June 24, Geneva, Switzerland

More: Liver Surgery CARS 2010

CAScination iPhone App

The CAScination liver viewer application illustrates the 3D visualization concepts of CAS-One. A perfect tool for explaining surgical navigation technology to your colleagues. Now available at the Apple App Store.

More: CAScination iPhone

Swiss National Entrepreneur Team

CAScination was selected as one of the 20 participants in the Venture Leader program which includes a business development course at Boston USA.

More: Venture Leaders

CAS-One is a surgical navigation system providing visualization and guidance during liver resection, ablation and living donor transplantation. The system is CE-Certified and currently available in Europe. For further information visit www.cascination.ch